The playgound is a place to tie your shoelace and race.

It doesn't matter if you win or lose just as long as you tie your shoes.

Here, we seek we learn we create we live our worlds.

Here, we climb
to see, we ponder
to do, we wander
ourselves in free forms—head first in the greatness of the never tried before.

And, on our own—good times that shall never be forgotten.

The thoughts:
disciplined
and spontaneous

They too, go side by side
along that road of life, at school.

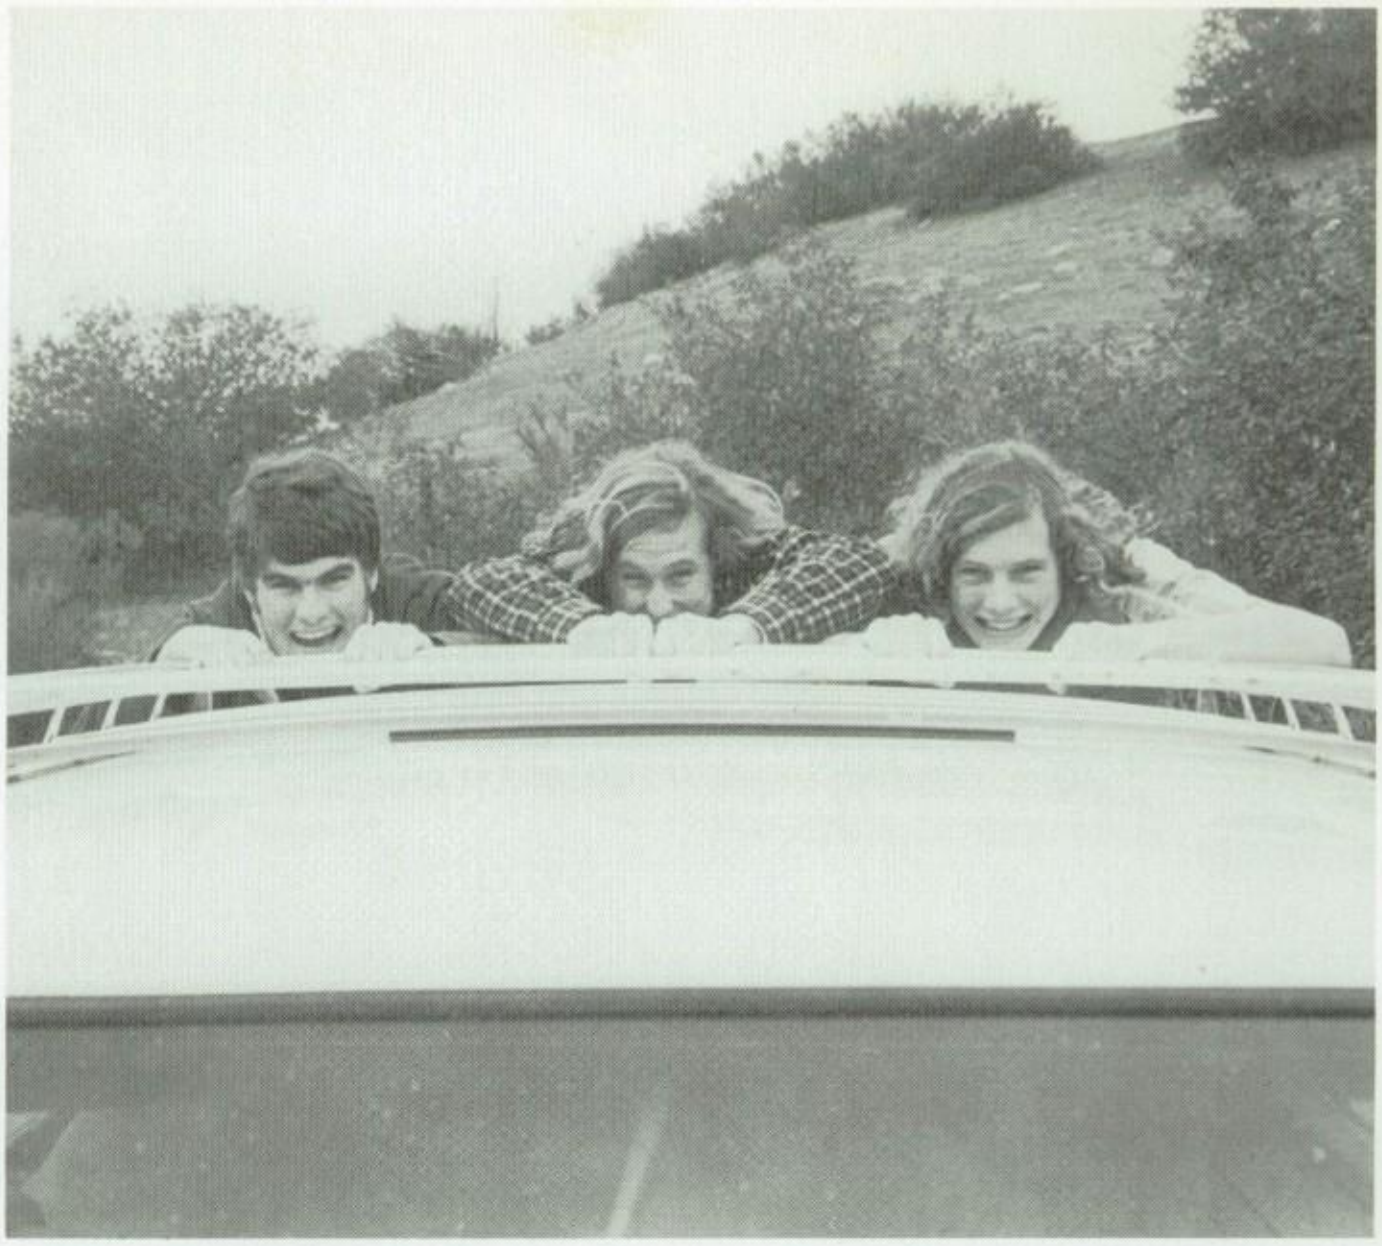
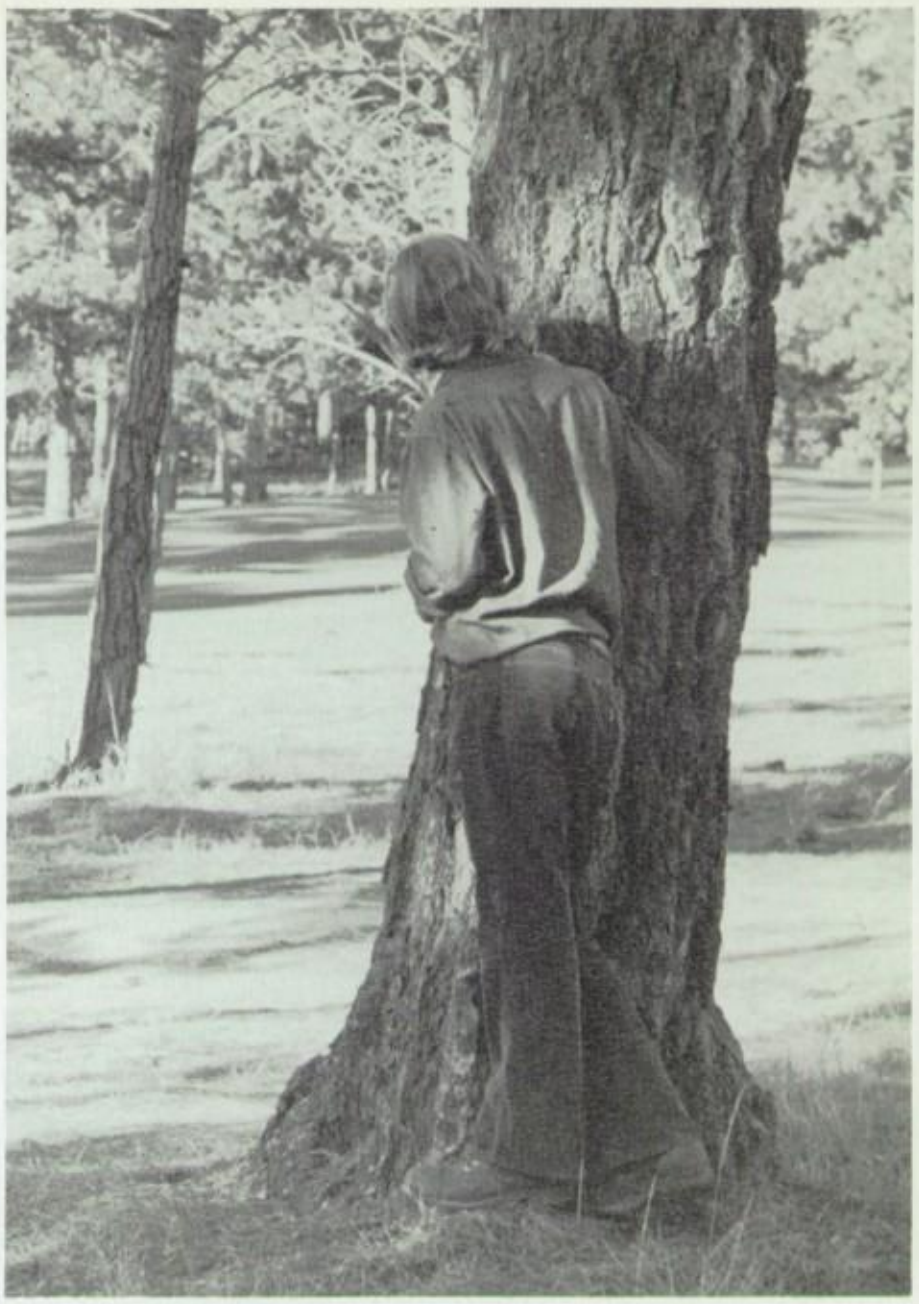
We're cruisers



down that road at noon,

And who knows what



by the light of the moon.

To be nobody—but yourself in a world which is doing its best, night and day, to make you everybody else—means to fight the hardest battle which any human being can fight, and never stop fighting.

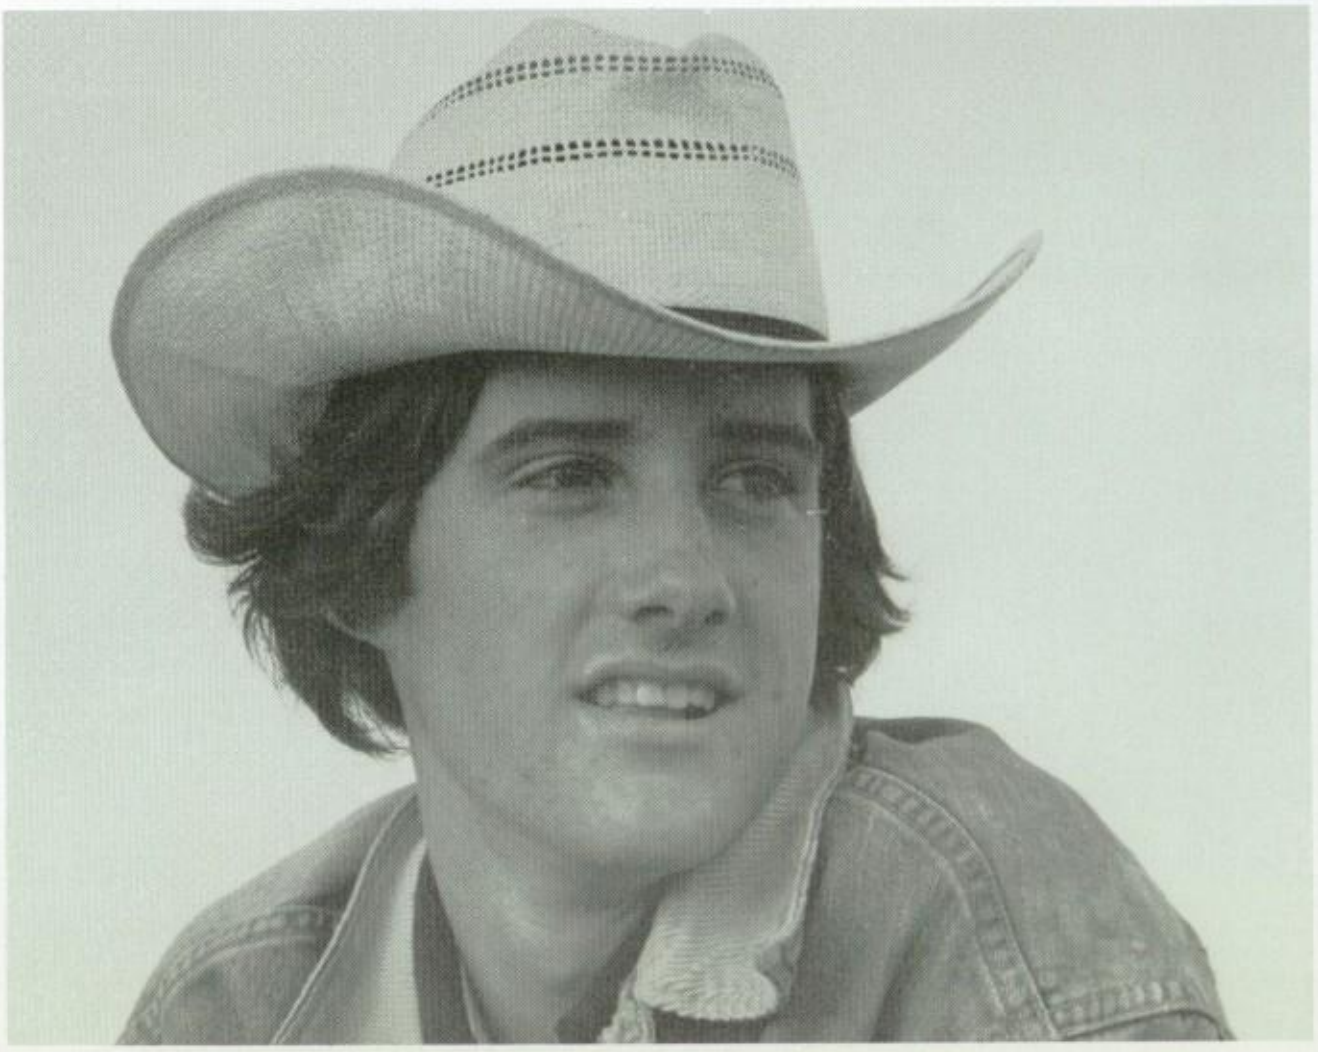
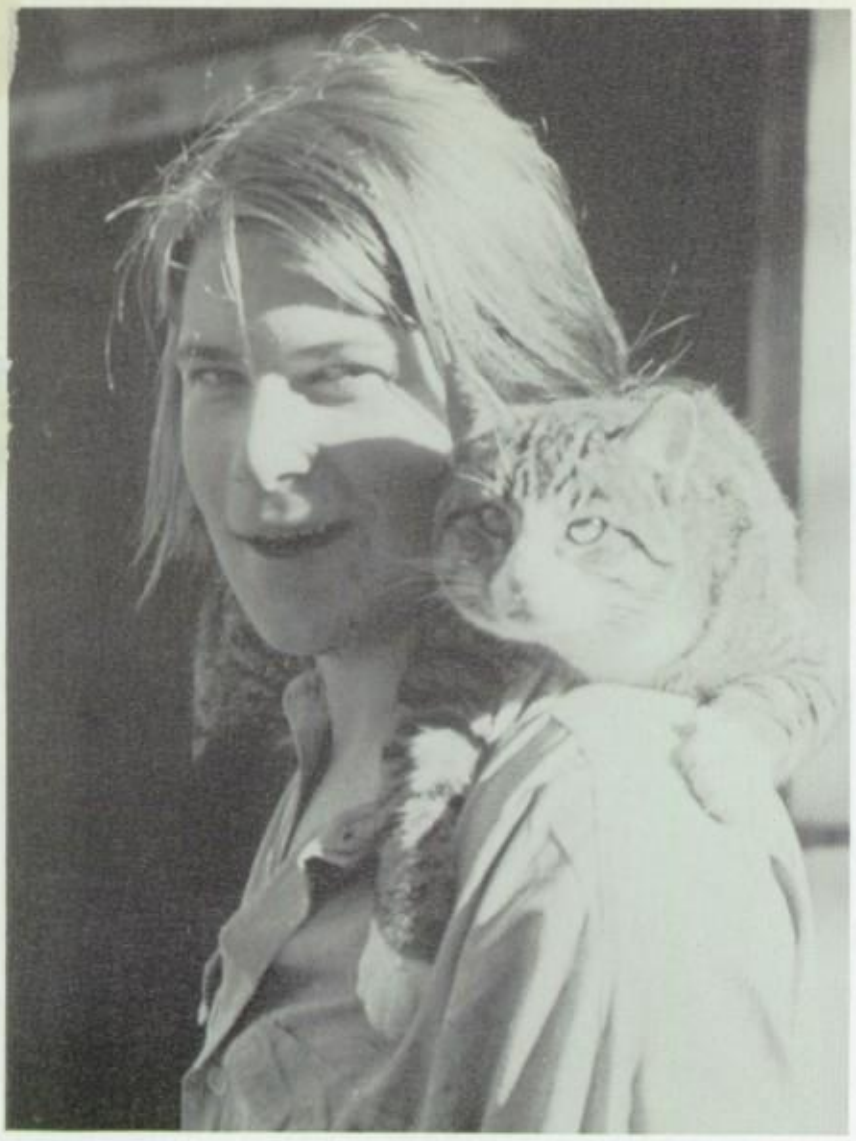
IBSEN





CHARLIE HOPPER

Hillsborough, Calif.

And then a scholar said, "Speak of talking."

And he answered, saying:

You talk when you cease to be at peace with your thoughts;

And when you no longer dwell in the solitude of your heart you live in your lips, and sound is a diversion and a pastime.

And in much of your talking, thinking is half murdered.

For thought is the bird of space, that in a cage of words may indeed unfold its wings but cannot fly.

—The Prophet, KAHLIL GIBRAN

ED WARD

Kentfield, Calif.

The first dream of the year;
I kept it a secret

And smiled to myself.

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of right-eousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

We are things across night, and across day. We are dreams, dreamed; we feel our bodies, feel like holdfasts; it won't hold. We are loose; we won't hold . . .

—JOHN LENNON and PAUL MCCARTNEY

RUSS HOCKINS

In this universe the night was falling: the shadows were lengthening towards a last that would not know another dawn. But elsewhere the stars were still young and the light of morning lingered: and along the path he once had followed, Man would one day go again.

That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been.

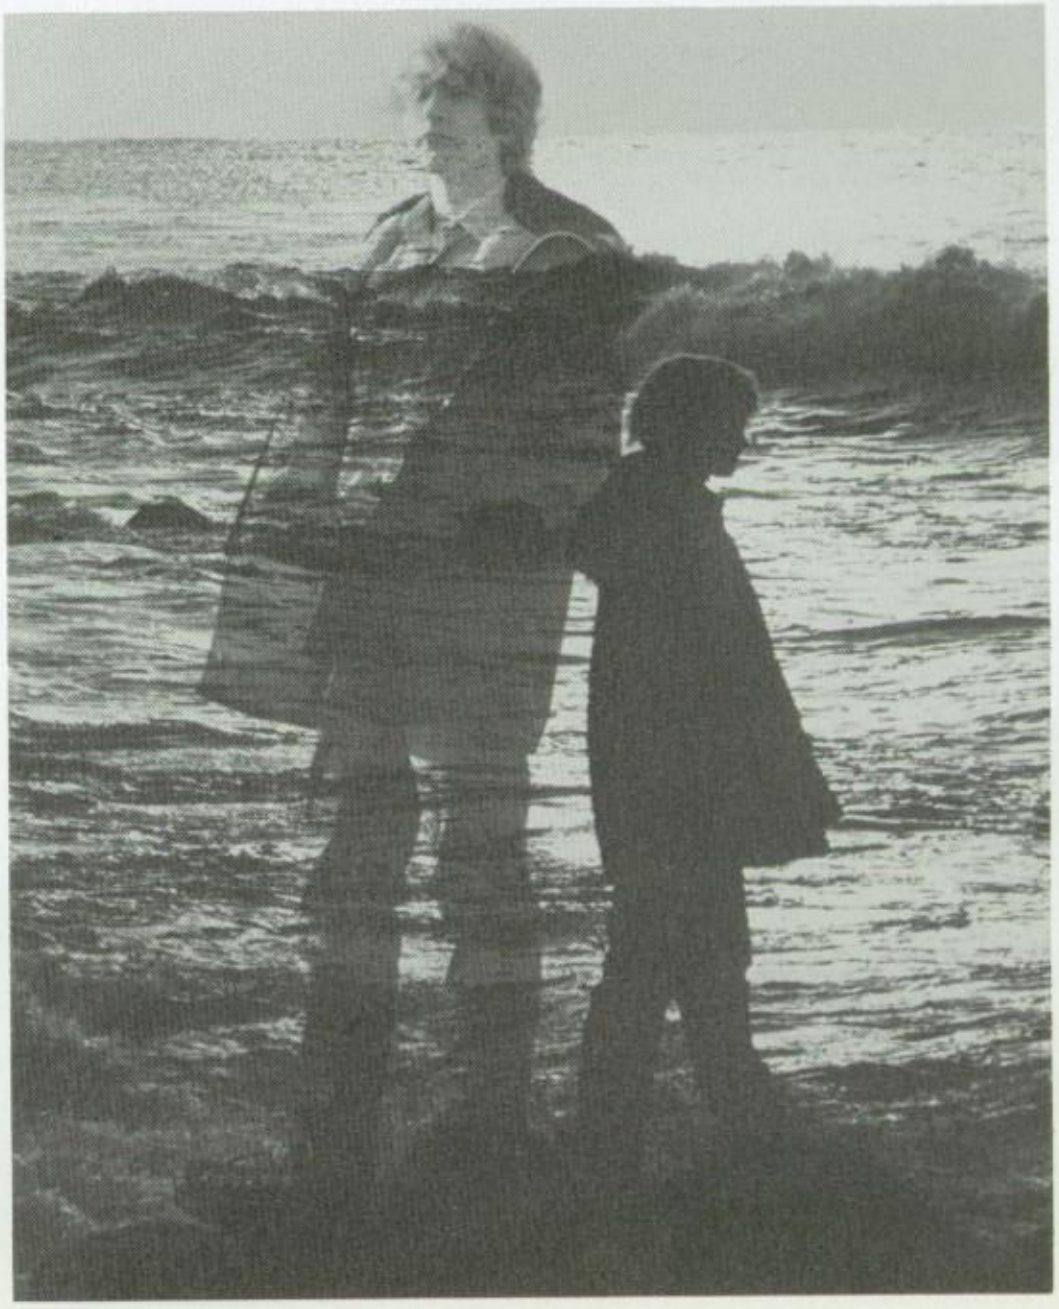
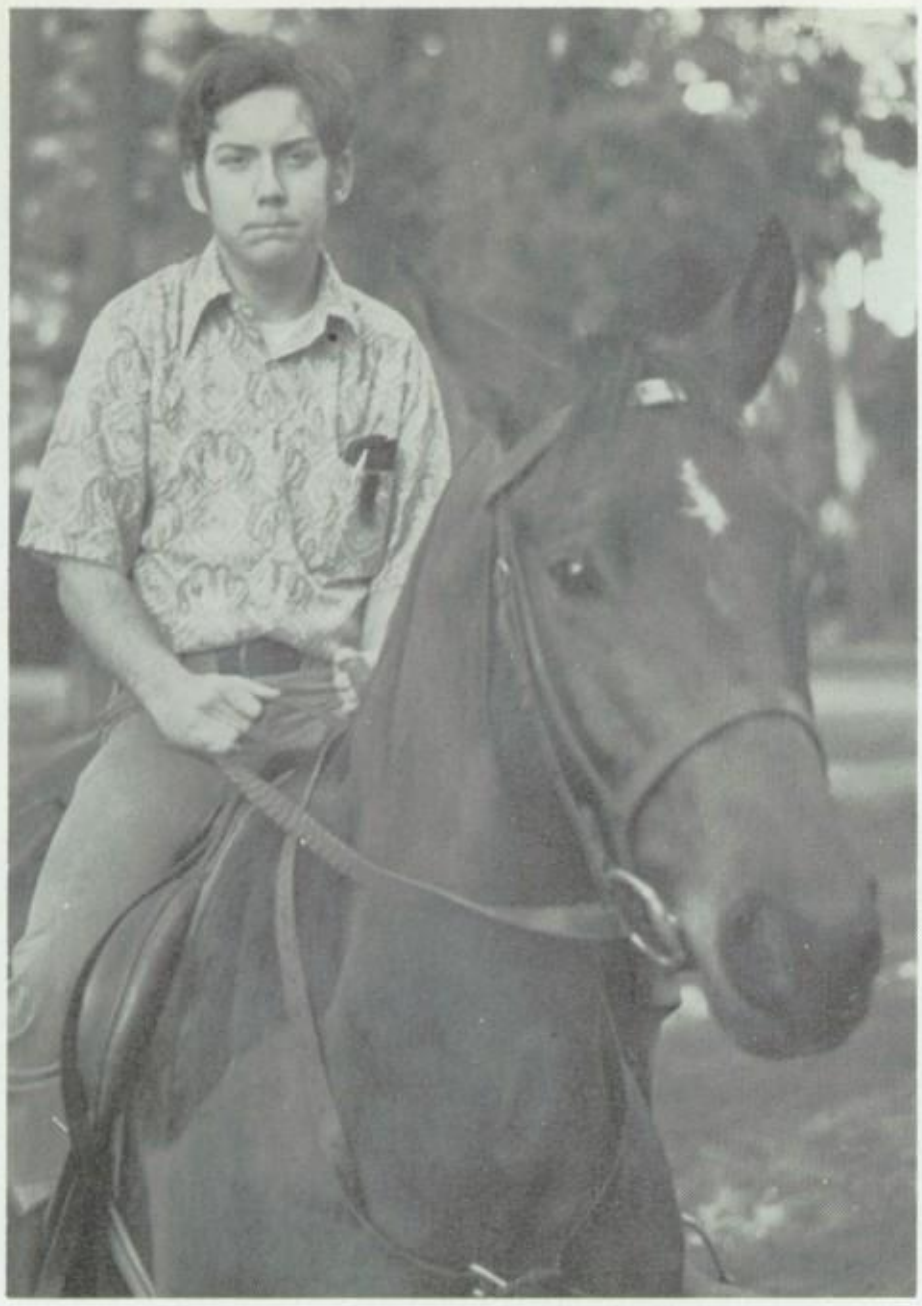
PETER NIELSEN

San Francisco, Calif.

For it may be truly affirmed of mankind in general, that they are ungrateful, fickle, timid, dissembling, and self-interested; so long as you serve them, they are entirely devoted to you; their wealth, their blood, their lives and even their offspring are at your disposal, when you have no occasion for them; but in the day of need, they turn their back upon you . . . For certain it is that men sooner forget the death of their relations than the loss of their patrimony.

—Niccolo Machiavelli
"The Prince"





BOB HEARNE

Baltimore, Maryland

KEVIN M. FORD

Pebble Beach, Calif.

"Nothing in the universe exists alone.
Every drop of water, every human being,
all creatures in the web of life and all ideas in the web of knowledge are part of an immense, evolving, dynamic whole as old, and as young,
as the universe itself.
To learn this is to discover the meaning of joy."

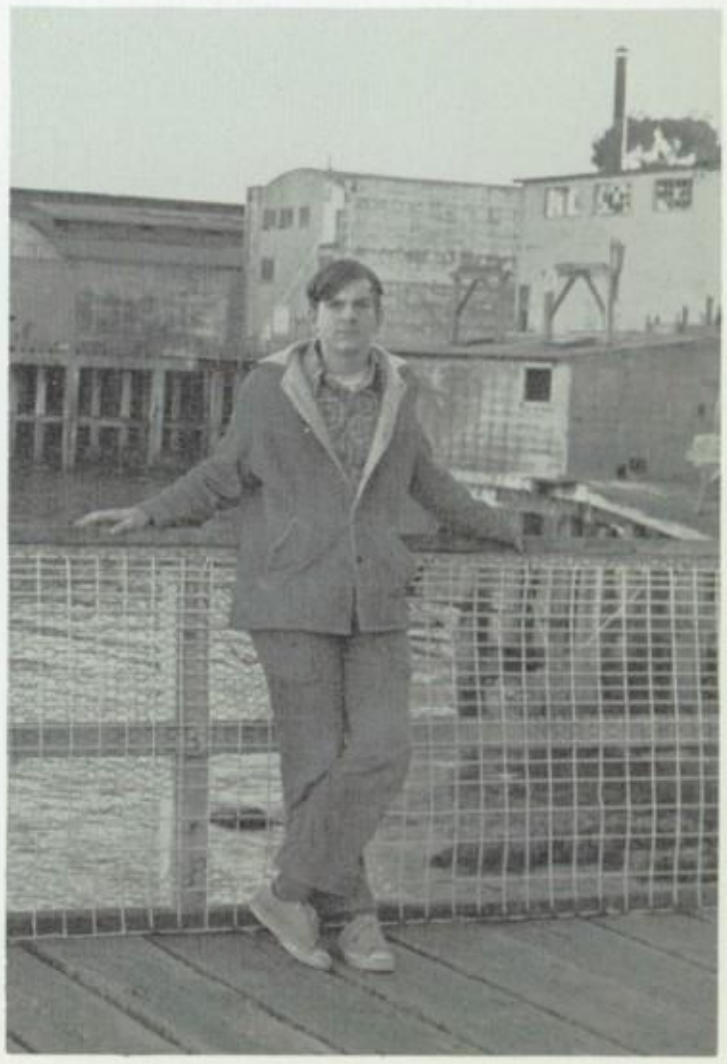
—CAVAGNARO



ERIC BIEHL

Danville, Calif.

There must be a Time
In every man's life
When he is uplifted to the stars
Because of something he does
With all his heart and soul.
It does not matter
Whether this lasts
For years or hours or seconds—
What matters
Is that it happens at all!
For, a man who lives
Even one hundred years
Who has not been uplifted, Dies stillborn . . . . . .

—Martin Schneider

JEFF HAHESY

Fresno, Calif.

We all live in a house on fire, no fire department to call; no way out, just an upstairs window to look out while the fire burns the house down with us trapped, locked in it.

Something hidden. Go and find it.
Go and look behind the Ranges—
Something lost behind the Ranges.
Lost and waiting for you. Go!

—Kipling

THOMAS A GIUSTINA

There I lay staring upward, while the stars wheeled over. . . . Faint to my ears came the gathered rumour of all lands: the springing and the dying, the song and the weeping, and the slow everlasting groan of overburdened stone.

WILLIAM T. PICKFORD

San Francisco, Calif.

I am being driven forward
Into an unknown land.
The pass grows steeper,
The air colder and sharper.
A wind from my unknown goal
Stirs the strings of expectation.

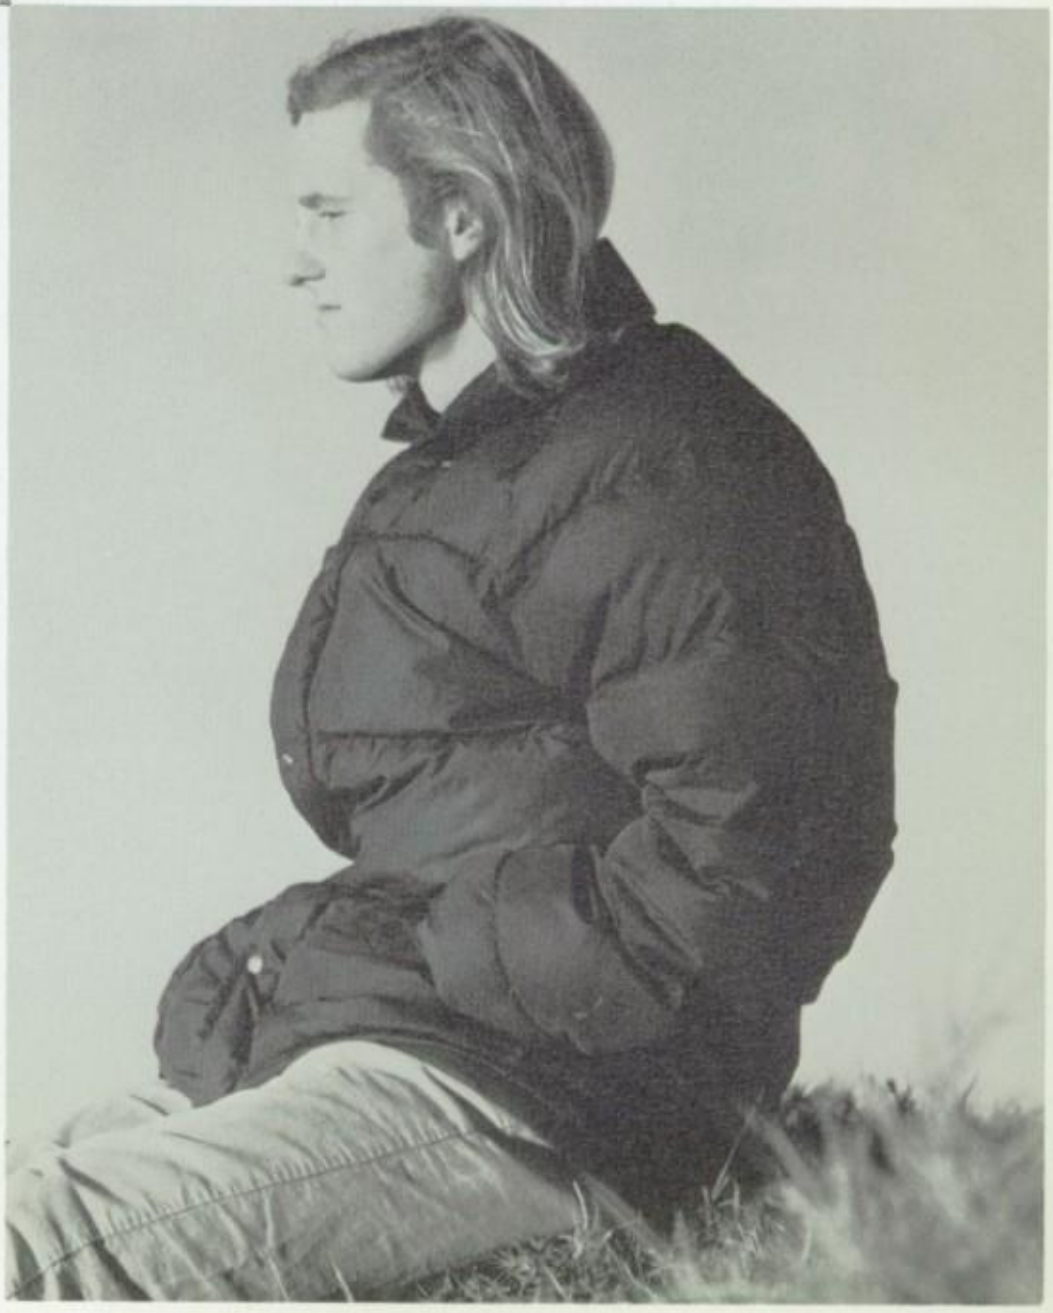
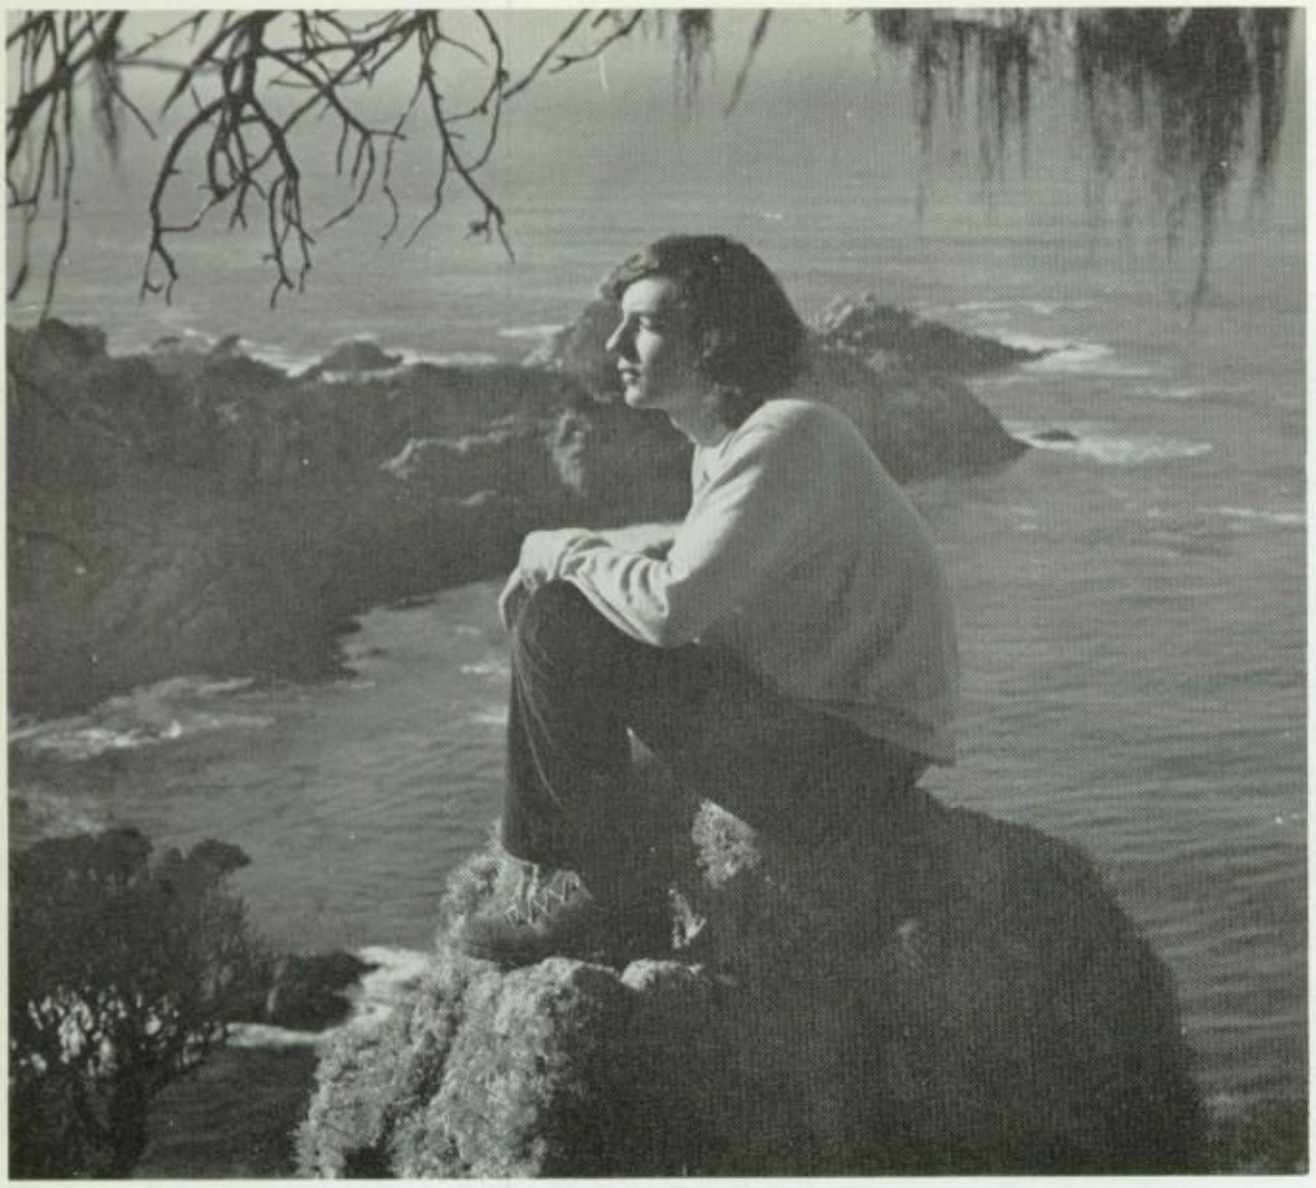
Still the question:
Shall I ever get there?
There where life resounds,
A clear pure note
In the silence.

—Dag Hammarskjold





GILBERT SOUZA

Monterey, Calif.

Yeah, sing the song, Bro'
If the sun refuses to shine,
I don't mind, I don't mind.
If the mountains fell in the sea,
Let it be, it ain't me.
Alright, 'cos I got my own world to look through,
And I ain't gonna copy you.

Now if 6 turned to be 9,
I don't mind, I don't mind,
Alright, if all the hippies cut off all their hair,
I don't care, I don't mind.
Dig, 'cos I got my own world to live
through,
And I ain't gonna copy you.

White collar conservative flashing down the street, pointing their plastic fingers at me.
They're hoping soon my kind will drop,
and die,
But I'm gonna wave my freak flag high, high Wave on, Wave on.
Fall mountains, just don't fall on me.
Go ahead Mr. Business man, you can't dress like me.
Sing on Brother, play on drummer.

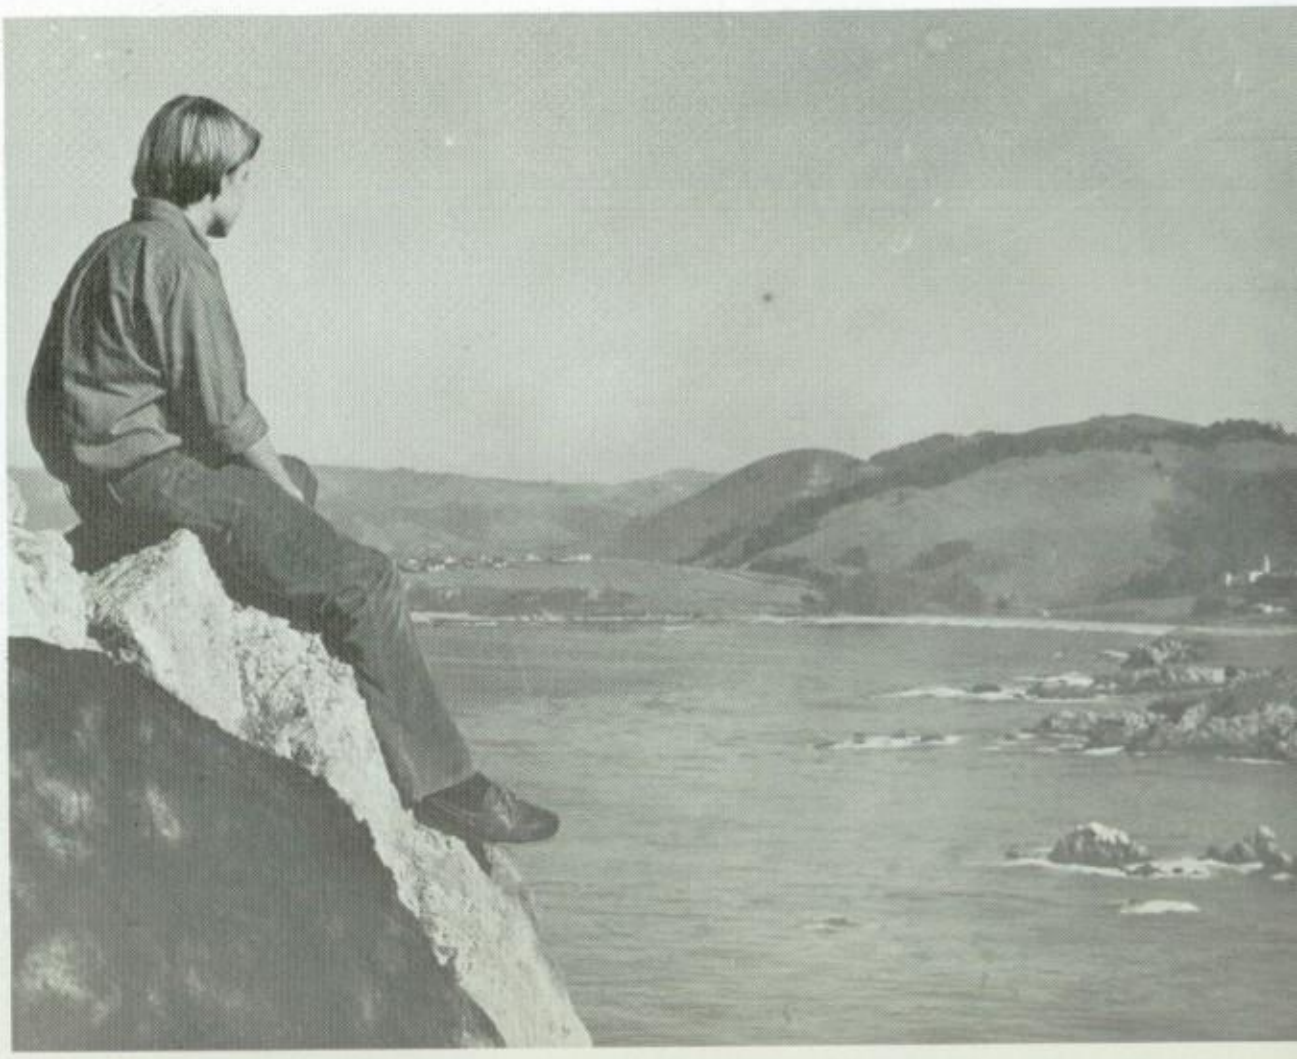
"It seems to lead on for ever, but every experienced woodsman knows that they all come to an end, but some are lucky for they have reached the purest spring."

—S.W.A. 11



JASON LEW

Monterey, Calif.

Yet I have one request to make of them. When my sons grow up, visit them with punishment, my friends, and vex them in the same way that I have vexed you, if they seem to you to care for riches, or for any other thing, before virtue: and if they think that they are something, when they are nothing at all, reproach them, as I have reproached you, for not caring for what they should, and for thinking that they are great men when in fact they are worthless. And if you will do this, I myself and my sons will have received our deserts at your hands.

—THE APOLOGY

SAMUEL LYONS

Detroit, Mich.

Let a new Earth rise.
Let another world be born Let a bloody peace be written in the sky. Let a second generation full of courage issue forth, let a people loving Freedom come to growth, let a beauty full of healing and strength of final clenching be the pulsing in our Spirits and our blood. Let the martial songs be written, let the dirges disappear.
Let a race of men now rise and take control.

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue
Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son!

WELCOME TO THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF THE PINE INN

CARMEL (408) 624-3851

Pine Inn bedrooms have been individually designed. Brass bedsteads reiterate the Victorian mood. In conducive rooms such as these, "Sleep Well!" is a Pine Inn tradition.

Enter the Red Parlor through the doorway surmounted by a Tiffany glass canopy found in France. Candle sconces, window glass insets and other conversation pieces toast your good health and happiness!

Dine in surroundings of Victorian elegance in the Main Dining Room, famous for its delectable cuisine. Included on the menu are regional specialties—artichokes, abalone and the catch of the day from Monterey Bay.

The Victorian Room serves private parties, including business conferences.

A glittering chandelier establishes the perfect romantic atmosphere for wedding receptions in the lovely Crystal Room.

THE PENT HOUSE offers the beauty, comfort and convenience of a luxury apartment, with accommodations for 8.
